OPENING DATE: 26 October 2016 CLOSING DATE: 10 November 2016

DESCRIPTION OF DUTIES: The primary purpose of the position is to provide ground and flight instruction in high performance, military fighter aircraft i.e. the F-22 weapon systems. In addition to flying training responsibilities, flight instructors perform assignments related to the operational readiness of their unit and administrative tasks in support of the Operations Group program. Administers combat flight training to military aircrews. Instructs and evaluates pilots through a broad training spectrum, in addition to performing pilot duties, which may include, but is not limited to: Initial Qualification Training (IQT), Mission Qualification Training (MQT), Continuation Training (CT), Upgrade Training (UG), Special Capability Training. Assesses flight instructors, pilots and other aircrew members assigned, attached or newly acquired to the unit to determine flying background and proficiency in the Unit Equipped (UE) airplane. Projects unit training requirements and prepares required training records. Utilizes available training aids to instruct airplane aerodynamics, aircraft systems, emergency procedures, and specific crew duties. Ensures that all applicable directives, instructions, and technical orders applicable to the aircraft and mission are current and adhered to. Maintains a thorough knowledge of airplane systems and procedures under normal, instrument, and emergency conditions to give timely and accurate instruction to aircrews in the air or on the ground. Briefs and instructs preflight preparations including: intelligence briefings, mission planning, weather factors, mission objectives, and other agency coordination to ensure safe flight procedures and effective mission accomplishment. Serves as the Commander’s representative when performing duties as: Operations Supervisor (TOP-3), Supervisor of Flying (SOF), or Stand-by Duty Officer (SDO); and is responsible for the safe and efficient mission accomplishment of the unit through the use of an Operational Risk Management (ORM) program. Incumbents of these positions are subject to rotation to perform administrative tasks in any of the following Fighter Squadron support functional areas: Standardization/Evaluation, Weapons and Tactics, Training, Scheduling, Plans, and Safety. Derives guidance from operational directives, training directives, instructions, standard operating procedures, and special instructions of NGB, United States Air Force, and gaining command. Independently plans and performs work and results are reviewed for compliance with local policies, regulations, and instructions of higher authorities. Incumbent may be required to prepare for and support the mission through the accomplishment of duties pertaining to military training, military readiness, force protection and other mission related assignments including, but not limited to, training of traditional Guard members, CWDE/NBC training, exercise participation (ORE/ORI/UCI/MEI/OCI/IG, etc.), mobility exercise participation, FSTA/ATSO exercise participation, SABC training, LOAC training, weapons qualification training, participation in military formations, and medical mobility processing within the guidelines of NGB/ARNG/ANG/State/TAG rules, regulations and laws. These tasks have no impact on the classification of this position and should NOT be addressed in any technician’s performance standards. Due to the extreme physical nature of flying in high performance jet fighters, pilots of these aircraft are required to adhere to the guidance in following publications: AFI 11-404, “Centrifuge Training for High-G Aircraft”; AFI 11-2(MDS) Vol 1, section covering: “G-Awareness Continuation Training”; and AFP 11-419 “G-Awareness for Aircrew”. Currently, all ANG fighter type aircraft fall in the category of “high G-onset rate” (HGOR). This is defined as the aircrafts ability to generate a “G” onset at the rate of 6 G’s per second or greater. Due to the HGOR of these aircraft, the likelihood of a “G-Loss of Consciousness” (GLOC) episode is high. It is imperative that the aircrew of these aircraft maintain a high degree of physical fitness and healthy lifestyle. Both aerobic and anaerobic exercise regimes are required for the pilot to maintain the ability to perform an effective Anti-G Straining Maneuver (AGSM).
